

CALL FOR ARTISTS

1st EELISA INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE 2023

Context

As an Alliance committed to foster innovative educational paths that prompt unprecedented knowledge exchanges and multidisciplinary experiences, and inspired by the European Education Area's strategic line "to better the connection of Arts, Social Sciences and Humanities with STEM", EELISA launches its first "Call for Artists"

This call is launched in the context of the celebration of the "1st EELISA International Conference" that will take place in the Universitatea Politehnica din București on 4, 5 and 6 October 2023.

What are we looking for?

We are looking for artistic works that fit into the category of painting, drawing, photography, video and/or graphic design, carried out by EELISA students, academics, and/or staff.

Artworks that are inspired or reflect on new ways of deepening cooperation, increasing societal impact, strengthening social ties and fostering critical thinking while being connected to a key aspect of EELISA's vision such as "European universities as spaces for diversity, knowledge exchange and creativity".

A committee composed of field experts and members of EELISA teams will select up to 6 works as finalists based on their creativity, their original way to connect art and technology, and capability to embody EELISA's vision.

A total number of up to 20 works will be selected as semi-finalists.

What do we offer?

EELISA will cover the travel expenses and accommodation of the artists selected as "finalists" to present their work in a special session held as part of the First EELISA International Conference.

The presentation will be in a digital format before a selected audience of EELISA students, academics, staff and external collaborators.

EELISA will promote both finalists and semi-finalists artist and her/his work in a special campaign through EELISA website, social media as well as printed promotional materials created before and after the conference.

EELISA reserves the right to use the selected artistic work/s for the development of new EELISA's promotional material upon payment of a fee agreed with the creator.
